

Sample e-mail:

Dear [name],

How are you? I hope well! [insert personal note here]

As you might know, I am [on the Board of Directors of / a volunteer for / a supporter of] Elizabeth Gregory Home, a terrific non-profit helping women experiencing homelessness.

These past two years have hit everyone hard, but especially those without shelter. Elizabeth Gregory Home continues serving women through their Day Center and Transitional Housing Program - providing a safe refuge and compassionate care to those most vulnerable.

Today I'm reaching out to invite you to Elizabeth Gregory Home's (EGH) annual spring event, Evening of Light: The Path Forward, which will be held online on the evening of Sunday March 20, at 6pm.

During the program, you'll hear inspiring stories from women who have experienced homelessness and how EGH helped them find the path forward to healing, hope, and home. I invite you to register for the event (no cost) and learn more through their website here.

I am proud to invest in Elizabeth Gregory home and ask you to consider making a gift to this wonderful organization. Your support would mean so much to me and even more so, to the women who are experiencing homelessness in our community.

I hope you will join me! You can register or donate at www.eghseattle.org.

Sincerely,

[Your name]

PS - Please also find the invitation attached to this email.